Courses will be offered in the semester indicated subject to availability of instructors and student demand.

St. Bonaventure University provides equal opportunity in its admissions, employment, and all educational programs and activities without regard to race, religion, creed, color, sex, gender, pregnancy (including childbirth and related conditions), age, national or ethnic origin, marital status, veteran status, disability, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, genetic information or predisposition, domestic violence victim status, familial status, or any other protected status under federal, state, or local laws.

Equal employment opportunity applies to all employment relationships. The University is committed to ensuring that all qualified candidates receive full consideration in the recruitment process and that its personnel policies and employment procedures and practices are consistent with this policy.

Pursuant to this policy, equal opportunity is to be provided to all persons in the delivery of educational programs and services.

St. Bonaventure University does not discriminate on the basis of sex and prohibits sex discrimination in any education program or activity that it operates, as required by Title IX, including admission and employment.

Inquiries about Title IX may be referred to St. Bonaventure University's Title IX Coordinator, the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights, or both.
